"Quality. Wit. Depression. Ecstasy.
Peace. This is SeeSaw."
-Steven Spielberg

SeeSaw Films is an independent film distributor that has made its name betting on the kind of quirky, artisanal movies that Hollywood generally ignores, and marketing them through unconventional means. During the "Great Quarentine of 2020" it built audiences and fanbases for projects as varied as Best Grade, the horror film Gipsums, and upcoming star, Tacy Tiff's Mango Mum, with a blend of zines, podcasts, film-related merchandise, and stunts designed to go viral.

"They remove the power that actors usually bring to a film and make it so that the story really sings."
-Leonardo DiCaprio

"Who made this? This is my favorite film in the world! ... SeeSaw? Well they just made the Amerivan Movie theater into a new church."

-The Pope

SeeSaw Films forged a distribution deal with Apple to produce films for it. At the 2020 Sundance Film Festival, SeeSaw was behind some of the most buzzed-about films, from its reinterpretation of Native Son to its acquisition of Awkwafina's The Farewell.
